

COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES, ARTS, BEHAVIORAL AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

AMERICAN INDIAN STUDIES

American Indian Studies (AIS) at CSU San Marcos offers both a major and minor. Our goal is to create culturally intelligent graduates who will contribute to the workforce, including providing leadership to Tribal Nations and Indigenous organizations. Our courses include tribal community engagement—with guest lectures, field trips, participatory research, and service-learning activities. Our department collaborates with Native communities, California Indian Culture and Sovereignty Center and engages students in scholarly academic activities that promote and strengthen tribal and cultural sovereignty.

American Indian Studies graduates will be prepared to work with a politically distinct segment of the population in a variety of fields, such as ...

- Health care
- Education
- Media
- Arts
- Environmental agencies
- Business
- Non-profit public service organizations
- Government

MEET THE DEPARTMENT CHAIR

Dr. Joely Proudfit

“

On behalf of the faculty and staff in American Indian Studies, we are excited to welcome you to our department. We are a growing and dynamic department with diverse American Indian scholars and course offerings. Our courses offer students opportunities to learn and make significant contributions to Native communities in relationship with those communities and our dynamic faculty.
