CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY SAN MARCOS

COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES, ARTS, BEHAVIORAL AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

MODERN LANGUAGE STUDIES

In order to help the community and understand the culturally diverse nature of our changing society and world, the faculty in the Department of Modern Language Studies currently offer courses in four languages: Arabic, French, German and Spanish. While we focus on the standard variety of each of these languages, students learn the different linguistic and cultural characteristics of the various regions where the languages are spoken, and we, as faculty, value these differences. From basic language instruction to advanced graduate courses, we are committed to exposing our students to the multicultural aspects of our global society. Our commitment to diversity is also represented by the multicultural composition of the faculty. Our program offers a bachelor of arts and a master of arts in Spanish. We also offer minors in Spanish, French, and German. The Spanish major is designed to provide students with linguistic and analytic skills, as well as the history, and the appreciation of the literature and culture of the Spanish-speaking world. The program seeks to contribute support to and articulate with other areas of study at the university.

MEET THE DEPARTMENT CHAIR

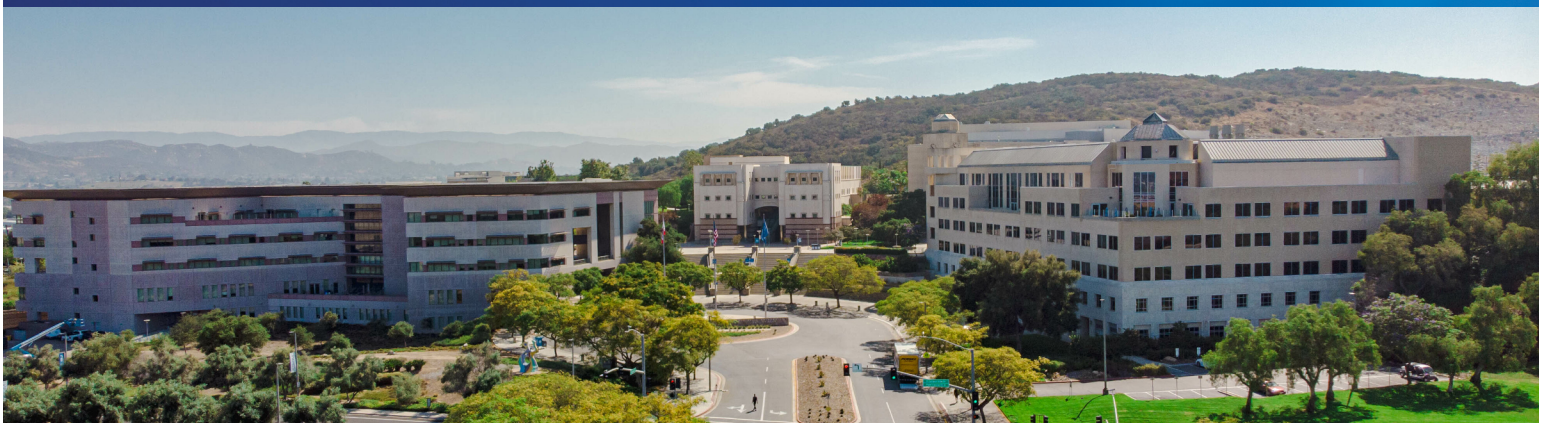

Dr. Silvia Rolle-Rissetto

“

On behalf of the faculty and staff, we are excited to welcome you to our department! The university’s commitment to interdisciplinary and multicultural issues guides the cultural and literary elements of the major. All of these principles are prevalent in the curriculum and the multicultural composition of the faculty.
